

List of Participants

Experience Exchange between United Kingdom and Sweden on Lung Cancer Screening

United Kingdom

Professor Anne Mackie, Director of Screening for Public Health England. Public Health England (PHE) provides support and advice to the NHS-led national screening programmes.

Dr. Philip Crosbie, Clinical Senior Lecturer & Honorary Consultant in Respiratory Medicine, Division of Infection, Immunity and Respiratory Medicine, Faculty of Biology, Medicine and Health, University of Manchester, North West Lung Centre, Wythenshawe Hospital, Manchester University NHS Foundation Trust

Professor David Baldwin, Consultant respiratory physician sub-specializing in lung cancer. Chair of the Clinical Expert Group for Lung Cancer, NHS England, and Clinical Director of the East Midlands Cancer Alliance

Professor Neil Hanley, Professor of Medicine, University of Manchester, Director of Research & Innovation, Manchester University NHS Foundation Trust, Honorary Consultant Endocrinologist at Manchester Royal Infirmary

Katherine Boylan, Head of Innovation, Manchester University NHS Foundation Trust

Ben Newton, General Manager Oncology, GE Healthcare

John Kalafut, PhD - Chief Digital Research Scientist, GE Healthcare

Amied Shadmaan, Senior Program Manager, GE Healthcare

Alan Yong, MD, Oncology Medical Affairs Head, AstraZeneca

Ross Kester, Oncology Policy Lead, AstraZeneca

Sweden

Professor Hans Hägglund, MD, National Cancer Coordinator, Swedish Association of Local Authorities and Regions and Confederation of Regional Cancer Centers. Chairman Vision Zero Cancer.

Jenni Nordborg, PhD, National Life Sciences Coordinator, The Office for Life Sciences, Government Offices of Sweden

Mattias Fredricson, Head of Unit responsible for national guidelines and screening, National Board of Health and Welfare

Lina Keller, PhD, Project Manager Unit responsible for national guidelines and screening, National Board of Health and Welfare

Mina Abbasi, Project Manager, National Board of Health and Welfare

Ass. Professor Jan Adolfsson, MD, Member of the National Screening Council, Project Manager, Swedish Agency for Health Technology Assessment and Assessment of Social Services

Ass. Professor Jan Nyman, Senior physician Oncology, Sahlgrenska University Hospital, Chairman of the National Working Group for Lung Cancer

Dr. Signe Friesland, PhD, Senior physician Oncology, Head of Medical Unit Head-, Neck-, Lung-, and Skin cancer, Theme Cancer, Karolinska University Hospital, Member of the National Working Group for Lung Cancer

Ass. Professor Bengt Bergman, Ass. Prof., Senior physician respiratory medicine, Sahlgrenska University Hospital, Member of the National Working Group for Lung Cancer, Core team member of Vision Zero Cancer

Mattias Johansson, PhD, Scientist, Genetic Epidemiology Group, International Agency for Research on Cancer (IARC), World Health Organization

Suzanne Håkansson, Senior Director Government Affairs, AstraZeneca AB, Core team member of Vision Zero Cancer

Elin Fernholm, Medical Advisor Oncology, AstraZeneca AB

Gustaf Palmér, Corporate Affairs Project Coordinator, AstraZeneca, Ass. Coordinator, Vision Zero Cancer

Lydia Lilja, Executive, Strategic Partnerships and Solutions Nordics, GE Healthcare

Mia Rajalin, Med. Dr. Psychology, Lung Cancer Patient Association, Core team member of Vision Zero Cancer

Ebba Hult, Head of the innovation milieu Vision Zero Cancer

Purpose of the meeting

To improve early cancer diagnosis, outcomes and care for patients, Sweden is looking into the potential of introducing a national screening program for lung cancer. The purpose of this meeting is to learn from experiences of lung cancer screening studies and the conclusions drawn so far in the UK, and to discuss potential new technologies for early lung cancer detection including AI, ethical and social considerations and legal aspects related to health data. Topics also include the Nelson trial and possible applications and limitations of the results.

Date: Friday 25 September 13:30-15:30 CET

Place: Zoom Meeting

Hosts: Professor Hans Hägglund, National Cancer Coordinator, Chairman Vision Zero Cancer hans.hagglund@skr.se, +46 72 580 79 45
Ebba Hult, Head of Vision Zero Cancer, ebba.hult@hhs.se +46 72 711 44 91